ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, Algiers, Oct. 30.—British, Canadian and American forces in Italy moved up today to the jump-off positions for a full-scale attack on the "little Rome" line after British troops of the Fifth Army captured its western anchor of Mondragone in gains ranging up to five miles.

The Fifth and Eighth Armies were described officially as victoriously having completed the necessary preparation of the springboards necessary to the assault on the German defences, the most formidable barrier across the road to Rome.

American troops took Pietravallo in a five-mile advance north-west of Roccaraso. The victory straightened the line and gave the Americans control of high ground threatening the German position to the west as well as a control point of traffic radiating from the junction.

Four other towns encompassed by the Fifth Army advance were taken.

MOSCOW, Oct. 30.—German troops in headlong flight from Soviet armored and motorized columns sweeping over the Nogaia steppes were reported struggling today to escape across the lower Dnieper under a deluge of bombs dropped by the Red air force.

Red Star, Soviet army journal, said the Germans were streaming back from Nogaia corridor between the lower Dnieper and the Sea of Azov toward clogged river crossings, evidently yielding the steppe to the onrushing Soviet forces.

Russian assault planes pounded the overcast crossings without pause, Red Star said, while the vanguard of Gen. Tolbukhin's army gave the Nazis no peace ground.

GERMAN REPORT

The German high command reported that a defensive battle of "undiminished ferocity" continued between the Dnieper and the Sea of Azov. Inside the Dnieper Bend, fighting was particularly severe in the Krivoy Rog area, where attempts by numerically superior Soviet forces to break through were checked.

(The Red army launched a new offensive yesterday west of Smolensk, the Nazi communiqué said, and the Dnieper Bend was reported by its own tanks and planes.)

As Russians already had driven halfway across the steps to within 40 miles of the last land bridge between the Crimea, the Caucasus and the Crimea.

At Moscow

John Bracken, national leader of the Progressive Conservative Party, will be in Edmonton over the weekend. He will be a guest at the Macdonald Hotel. His arrival here was scheduled for Saturday afternoon.

Berlin Claims

Second Front
Dates Fixed
LONDON, Oct. 30.—(AP)—The German radio in a broadcast of reports from Stockholm said today that British and United States delegates to the tri-continental conference in Moscow had made a detailed proposition to the Soviet Union regarding a second front, with a fixed date.

German reaction to President Roosevelt's announcement of the success of the conference centered around the Berlin picture. British and the United States for the past week has been a detailed proposition to the Soviet Union regarding a second front, with a fixed date.

The German propaganda agency Transocean declared that Britain was turning to a policy which contemplated a joint Anglo-Soviet rule in Europe.

"Eden (British Foreign Secretary) Anthony Eden has accepted a Russian request to leave Eastern Poland outside the discussion," the agency said. "He also agreed in principle that the Polish armed forces and London should be reconstructed."

In the absence of official word on the terms of the Moscow agreement, the London Star editorially said that first reports hint that one German item decision upon was a plan for policing defeated Germany.

CALGARY, Oct. 30.—(CP)—Eleventh-hour efforts are being made to prevent the strike of 9,000 Alberta and British Columbia coal miners called by District 18, United Mine Workers of America (C.I.O.), for midnight Sunday, but so far these have failed.

Announcement of the strike order came late Friday night shortly after the Royal Commission appointed to inquire into the coal mine wage dispute had finished its first day session here.

(Temporarily labor department officials at Ottawa conferred on the strike order, an unofficial report says that some of the men have been dismissed without statement was forthcoming from the conference.)

The sudden change in the course of events brought about by the strike order was denounced for now there was hope of resumption of the inquiry today.

Appeals ineffective
Justice G. R. O'Connor, chairman of the commission, and from the other side, the C.I.O. and the U.M.W. of America, to District 18 officials to reconsider the strike call were ineffective.

Vict president of the United Mine Workers, said the miners were being misled and that the strike call was ineffective.

By C.P.R. Train

Alex Sen, 25 years old, of Leduc, was killed instantly at 4:30 p.m. Friday, when the truck he was driving was struck by a Canadian Pacific Railway passenger train at a crossing at Two Hills, 22 miles north of Leduc.

Sen was severely injured, with broken ribs, a fractured leg and other internal injuries.

The two men were hauling barrels from Kelowna to Two Hills when the truck was struck by the train, which was carrying 300 feet of lumber and was completely demolished.

Sen was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Sen, pioneer Leduc district. Constable McNally, R.C.M.P., Two Hills, was called to the scene. An inquest was conducted by Dr. R. M. Reid, Vegreville, coroner.

NASSAU, Bahamas, Oct. 30.—(AP)—Defence counsel Geoffrey Higgs, accusing excitedly, suggested today that two Miami detectives arrested after the slaying of Harry Oakes to obtain a fingerprint which is being used in the Bahamas supreme court in the crown case against Alfred D. Morag, charged with murder.

During cross-examination of Capt. James G. Barker of the Miami police, Higgs told the witness, "I suggest that in your desire for gain and notoriety you have swept aside the truth and substituted fabricated evidence."

Earlier, Higgs accused Barker of trying to incite the late of Lady Oakes, widow of the slain man, to sue him for his son-in-law, the defendant.

Calvin Barker denied all of the allegations made by Higgs.

Nazi Loot Rome
ALGERES, Oct. 30.—(AP)—The Germans are systematically looting Rome, according to a person who was there just five days ago. Radio stations and electric power plants are being dismantled and shipped to Germany. Plans are under way to destroy the city's art treasures and move out boxes as was done in Naples.

The Post of Edmonton has been established by the Northwest Service Command of the U.S. Army to administer and supply certain installations of the U.S. Army in Edmonton. It was announced Saturday, Col. R. Col. Dusenbury is the commanding officer.

Col. Dusenbury was graduated from the U.S. Military Academy at West Point in the same class, 1907, with Brig. Gen. J. A. O'Connor, commanding general of the Northwest Service Command with headquarters at Whitehouse, N.Y.

The new commanding officer for the U.S. Army units in Edmonton has a distinguished military career. He was recent service at the American Embassy in London just before coming to Edmonton, and was military attaché at Buenos Aires, Montevideo and other Latin American capitals during the 1930s. He was also military attaché in Madrid for one year.

The north country is familiar to Col. Dusenbury. He was commanding officer of the famous Chisholm barracks at Haines, Alaska, from 1937 to 1939. This was the only U.S. Army post in Alaska until the recent emergency when the Alaskan terminus of the Haines Military road, which runs northward over the old Jack Dalton trail to join the Alaska Military highway just below Whitehorse.

During the first World War Col. Dusenbury, battalion commander of the 17th Infantry, participated in the famous battle of the Aisne-Marne, the Oise-Aisne and the Meuse-Argonne.

The Post of Edmonton will be located in nine prefabricated houses near the U.S. Army station and will consist of headquarters, headquarters company, the service command medical laboratory, the station hospital and the U.S. Military Police.

Attached to the post for administration and supply will be the finance office, the service command medical exchange, a signal service battalion and an engineer battalion.

Lenin Genius of Revolution

—By Joseph Stalin

This article is based on an address by Stalin delivered on January 28, 1924, a week after Lenin's death. It forms the introduction to Stalin's book "About Lenin and Leninism" which was first published in 1924. The original edition of the book is used by the translator.

Whenever the word Party has been used by Stalin, it referred to the Communist Party. In 1905 the Party was known as the Russian Social-Democratic Labor Party. The majority faction in the Party sided with Lenin and the policy of the Russian Social-Democratic Labor Party in Bolshevik and the faction came to be known as Bolsheviks. The minority faction sided against Lenin. The Russian word for majority is Bolshoi and the word for minority is Moshoi.

At the time there were twelve parties in the world. The text meaning and political implications were in no way changed by my condensation and abridgment of the material—E. T.

Translated, abridged and edited by Elias Tobenkin

First Lenin for the first time in 1903. True it was not a personal meeting but by means of correspondence, and it made on me an indelible impression. I was then in Siberia, in exile. I had been studying the revolutionary activity of Lenin since the end of the nineties, and more especially his activity since 1901, and was convinced that he was in Lenin an unusual man. He appeared to me even then not only as the leader of the Party, but as its actual creator, because he alone understood the inner substance of the Party and its aims, and he alone was the highest type, the highest type, a Mountain Eagle, who knows no fear and who was leading the Party bravely forward.

In person I met Lenin for the first time in 1905, at the conference of the Bolsheviks in London. Finland. I had hoped to see him in the Mountain Eagle of our Party, a great man, great not only in his political sense, but in body, physically, for I had grown to love Lenin as a man of titanic dimensions. How great was my disappointment when I saw a very ordinary individual, modest and unassuming, below medium height, who was in no way different from any other mortal.

LENIN'S LOGIC FORCEFUL
Yet his speeches at this conference were so inspiring they stirred the delegates to a storm of ecstasy. The simplicity and clearness of his arguments, the short, simple phrases in which he expressed his ideas, the complete absence of tricks and gestures, completely absorbed by great orators, at once distinguished him from the usual run of "parliamentary" speakers. But I was not alone.

SECOND event in the current season's Celebrity Series of concerts sponsored by the Women's Musical Club, namely, the recital by Yehudi Menuhin, violinist, will take place at McDougall auditorium at 8:30 p.m. next Friday, Nov. 5. To this concert, which promises to be of the "auspicious" kind, music lovers are looking forward with no little anticipation. It will be Mr. Menuhin's first appearance here. The Celebrity series was set off to a successful start when Miss Pauline, Edmonton-born mezzo-soprano of the Metropolitan Opera Association, gave the first concert earlier this month.

JOHN OLIVER
gives the first concert earlier this month.

As was the case with Miss Pauline, Mr. Menuhin will be greeted by a capacity audience. Mrs. Ernest Meisen, manager of the series, stated Saturday that there is widespread and concentrated interest being manifest in Mr. Menuhin and that there are bound to be some persons disappointed at not being able to hear him.

The program is one calculated to please and at the same time give the soloist every opportunity to display his technical facility and interpretive gifts. On the program are the following pieces: Sonata in D Major, Handel; the Concerto in D Minor, opus 84, by Mendelssohn; Sonata No. 3, in A minor, opus 25 by George Enescu, with its three movements being Moderato, andante sostenuto e misterioso and allegro con brio, the last two, Negro Spiritual Melody, Dvorak; Kreisler; The Flight of the Bumble Bee by Rimsky-Korsakov, arranged by Hartmann; Capriccio Venetiano by Kreisler; Capriccio Chevreux de Lin by Debussy, arranged by Hartmann and Perpetuum Mobile, by Novacek. At the piano will be Adolph Burtch.

Mr. Menuhin was born in New York City, April 22, 1916. He was educated privately at San Francisco, Paris and Basel, Switzerland. Among his teachers were Louis Persinger in San Francisco; Georges Enescu in Paris and Adolph Burtch in Basel. He began playing the violin when he was four years old and at seven appeared as soloist with the San Francisco orchestra.

Yehudi Menuhin, celebrated violinist, who will appear in concert at McDougall auditorium at 8:30 p.m. next Friday. His appearance—his first here—will be the second in the current season's series of Celebrity Concerts sponsored by the Women's Musical Club.

He made his New York debut when he was nine in a recital at the Manhattan Opera House.

His Carnegie Hall debut was made as a child of 11, playing the Beethoven Violin Concerto. His Berlin debut was made in 1929 when he played the famous 3rd Concerto, namely, Bach, Beethoven and Brahms, accompanied by the Berlin Philharmonic Orchestra under Bruno Walter. Later in the same year he made his first London appearance at Queen's Hall, and then appeared before an audience of 10,000 persons at the Royal Albert Hall. In 1935 he completed his first round-the-world tour, appearing in 110 engagements in 63 cities. He then retired from the concert platform and spent two years on his ranch in California. In 1937 he returned to concert work.

In the middle of next month, Nov. 16, 17 and 18 the Edmonton Civic Opera Society will present Rudolf Friml's comedy opera "The Firefly". Mrs. James B. Carmichael, general musical director, has selected the various sections of the organization into a compact whole, and rehearsals are reported to be progressing to the satisfaction of even Mrs. Carmichael, who always seeks to bring forth the best from all those under her baton.

Mention of Friml and "The Firefly" draws attention to the fact about which the mighty William Shakespeare wrote regarding influencing a person's life. At 17 years, Friml was graduated from the Prague Conservatory, and with Kubelik, then 18, toured the United States. Kubelik was an outstanding violinist of the day and Friml was his accompanist. Friml decided to remain on this side of the Atlantic after the tour, and in 1906 he appeared at Carnegie Hall, New York, as soloist in his own piano concerto, with the New York Symphony Orchestra, Walter Damrosch.

Appearances with the Philadelphia Orchestra and Boston Symphony followed. Friml at this time took himself extremely seriously, and endeavored to look like his idol, the great Liszt, and in order to do so wore a mop of hair that fell all over his face, and a long frock coat. Then came the great turning point in the life that made him one of the most successful light opera composers of contemporary times. He had composed many pieces previously, in various forms, but had yet to try his hand at light opera.

Oscar Hammerstein, the impresario, discovered a beautiful and talented young woman in an Italian delicatessen store, namely, Emma Trentini, whom he brought to the United States for his Manhattan Opera Company. Then in 1910 he commissioned the great Victor Herbert to compose an opera for her, and the result was "Naughty Marietta," which was an outstanding triumph with Trentini and Creville Harrod, grand opera tenor in the leading roles. So great was the success of the piece that Herbert was called upon many times to conduct performances during its Broadway run. Incidentally, it was something worth remembering to hear Herbert, casting his magic spell over the orchestra in "A Sweet Mystery of Life," "I'm Falling in Love With Someone," "Neath the Southern Moon," or other memorable numbers of the score.

Trentini was a happy Italian, and Herbert in addition to being a genius was a temperamental Irishman. Subsequently the prima donna and the great composer agreed to disagree. Trentini irreparably related to appear in any more Herbert operas, and Herbert, for his part, vehemently refused to pose any more music for her. Hammerstein had Trentini under contract, and had to keep her supplied with starting vehicles. The near-desperate operator, assigned to the music-publishing firm for someone who could write a light opera score, Schirmer recommended last night that members of the reserve army whose term of service expires during the war will be required to serve an additional year before they are discharged, although the men are enlisted to discharge after three years of service but they must serve an additional 12 months if the three-year term expires in a time of emergency.

In the net result "The Firefly" came into being. First produced at Syracuse, New York, Oct. 14, 1912 it swept to great success. Its score, studded with melodic gems, won instant and enduring appeal, and set Friml on a career to fame and fortune that placed him in the forefront of American light opera composers, along with Sigmund Romberg and Jerome Kern, and only a step behind Herbert himself.

Friml's mop of long hair disappeared, and he abandoned his long frock coat for a suit from a number of attractive songs and piano numbers, cast your eye over the following titles and refresh your memory in respect to his greatness and popularity as a composer. He has composed many successful pieces, but in presenting "The Firefly" the Edmonton Civic Opera Society will be bringing to Edmontonians the score that stands out as his first and best. The many he has contributed to the staidy annals of.

"Shell-Out" Night This Hallowe'en

Saturday night is Halloween and traditional "shell-out" night. Edmonton youngsters will be different this year, because all the children are working Hallowe'en night for British children across the sea.

Instead of collecting candies, peanuts, and fruit from door to door, the children will be collecting special tickets for the Milk-for-Britain fund. The Kinsmen Club, sponsor of the fund, is sending the money they collect to householders through local retail stores and school children canvassers. These tickets are what the children will be looking for when they about "shell-out" at your door Hallowe'en night.

They will be in costume, of course, as in former years, but they will be far too busy to get into mischief, and this wartime celebration will have a practical purpose. Objective of the campaign is two million quarts of milk for Britain.

Pizes for the greatest number of tickets collected will be awarded the children when they turn in their tickets Monday at the schools. Edmonton citizens are being asked to spend the money they ordinarily would have bought candies with, on tickets for the fund and have them ready for the children Saturday night.

Nazi Repatriates Complain About Camps in Africa

STOCKHOLM, Oct. 30.—(AP)—The Berlin newspaper Lokai, an angler aid in an issue over the Nazi soldiers had complained about prison camps in Africa "under African guard and controlled mainly by Jews."

Another of the Nazi papers arriving here yesterday, the Deutsche Allgemeine Zeitung of Berlin, said in a dispatch from Goteborg, Sweden, where a part of the exchange took place, that internment of most of the Germans involved meant "great suffering and physical strain. Communication with the homeland was limited and sparse and the exchange of letters and packages via the Red Cross often was delayed for months."

Dog's Dinner "Guest" Shot

Fresh from the "backwoods," a cove of amazing courage—yet stupidly—bravely entered the farmyard of P. H. Ashby, of the White Mud Creek district, close to the city Friday and invited himself to dine with the family's pet dog.

Scornful of the chicken, sheep and other livestock in the farmyard, the prairie wolf calmly sauntered over to where the family pet was enjoying his repast and proceeded to "dig in."

Mr. Ashby observed the animal from the window and after overbearing his amazement, reached for his rifle and, as he put it:

"I went out and looked at him. And he looked at me, with one eye still on the dog's plate."

It was a fatal mistake for him, with a single shot between the eyes, Mr. Ashby killed the intruder.

Dies For Country

That would be a world calamity, particularly now when refugees who can escape from Nazism are Palestine as their haven. It would be inconsistent to carry on the present war for democratic ideals and then bar the door of Palestine to oppressed peoples trying to escape from Fascism.

There is great need for unity, said Mr. Lipshitz, so that we can all do our utmost to speed victory. The things most needed to build the Palestine community are harmony, co-operation and good will.

The Arabian and Jewish leaders there should realize that the happy, successful future of both their peoples lies in friendliness and harmony rather than disunity, he said.

Jewish Citizens Aid War Effort

Sam Lipshitz, editor of the Canadian Jewish Weekly said Friday that the Jewish people in Canada are making their full contribution towards winning the war. He added that 10,000 Jewish men and women are in the armed forces of Canada, and many of the men have been cited for bravery.

Visiting Edmonton as part of his cross-country tour of the Dominion, Mr. Lipshitz said he will speak Sunday at 2:30 under the auspices of a special committee of Jewish citizens at the Mount Temple on "The War and the Role of Palestine."

And about the growing importance of Palestine particularly in post-war planning, Mr. Lipshitz said: "There is talk of banning immigration to Palestine."

R.Y.E. N.Y., Oct. 30.—After separate interviews with Don Hutson and Curley Lambeau of the Green Bay Packers, we can state definitely that: (1) Hutson, the Packers' mighty end, will or will not retire at the close of this season. (2) Hutson has not or has worn shoulder pads while participating in every Packers game for nine seasons. (3) The Packers' safety man is Hutson or Lambeau.

We gathered these "coops" during a reporter's workout with the Packers who are grooming here at the Westchester Country Club for Sunday's game with the Giants at the New York Polo grounds. During the workout we talked past Hutson, apparently the safety man, and thought we were stepping over the goal line for journalistic touch-down, when suddenly thrown by Coach Lambeau. We woke up in midfield.

Hutson, a lanky, soft-spoken southerner who is generally regarded as the greatest pass receiver in grid history, told us:

HUTSON'S LAST SEASON?
"It's playing my last season of football. That's positive. I'm quitting because I've played long enough—nine years as a pro, four years in college and one in high school. I'm 30 years old, and I have a good bowling alley business in Green Bay. I don't have to play any more."

Then we encountered Coach Lambeau, standing in the club lobby, and sounded him for words of regret over Hutson's planned retirement. The portly pilot gave us a quick once-over, as if estimating our lack of intelligence, and enquired caustically:

"Are you kidding? Don't you know that's an annual gag with Hutson? Why—he's been announcing his retirement about this time every season for the past five years. Does he play like a guy who's ready for the ash can? He'll retire, all right—about 1950."

During our chat with Hutson, we asked the tall fellow about his shoulder pads. It always had seemed to us that Don never wore pads. Watching him in a game, his shoulders always seemed almost scrawny against those of his mate, equipped with the big leather harness.

NEVER WORE PADS
"No, I never have worn shoulder pads during my nine years of pro football," Hutson said. "I go without them for two reasons: speed and more freedom of movement in reaching for high passes. No, I've never been injured seriously without them. I've never been hurt enough to miss an entire game during my nine seasons."

During our later encounter with Lambeau, we remarked that Hutson must be an iron man to have gone nine seasons without pads and without injury.

Lambeau snapped: "Who said Hutson doesn't wear pads? He wears pads in every game. I see him put them on. Maybe what Don meant was that he wears anti-leather pads instead of the hard-leather ones. No, I don't see anything remarkable about his not getting hurt. On the offense, he's always up in front—playing high. And on the defense, he's always back as our safety man, to protect against passes hitting. He doesn't have to do much bettering or tackling."

That's how come we wound up in midfield.

CANADIAN SPORTSHOTS

By CHARLIE EDWARDS
TORONTO, Oct. 30.—(CPI)—There's something anomalous about George Hardy's reported statement to an Edmonton hockey meeting that "in normal times juveniles should not be signed to professional contracts."

Hardy, past president of the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association and president of the International Ice Hockey Association, explained that it is extremely difficult now for the National League to get players but that plan major circuit has "agreed that once the war is over it will be prepared to join in framing an agreement which will protect juvenile players."

Offhand we'd say that if it is wrong to sign juveniles (boys under 18) to professional contracts "in normal times" as Hardy puts it, it is that much worse to sign them in abnormal times when civilization is upset by war.

Objections given at the Edmonton meeting to signing of juveniles was that professional offers "lured" them away from the class room or war industry.

Actually this corner sees no objection to signing of juveniles if the professional clubs involved see that the youngsters finish their schooling, as most N.H.L. clubs do. Parental consent should be all that is needed.

However, this corner takes exception to the Hardy statement as an example of the poppycock frequently fed the public by sport executives.

What Hardy meant was that the C.A.H.A. should not step on N.H.L. toes. The National League needs players now, and right or wrong the amateur body should not object. After the war the N.H.L. will gladly sign an agreement not to sign juveniles because by that time it will want only mature players and not boys under 18.

Incidentally, Edmonton is on the threshold of another big basketball season with 18 senior men's teams, many of them formed by United States service men.

George Hall and George Carradus, Guelph, Ont., five-pin bowlers, rolled an exhibition series of 10 games, Hall averaging 302 and Carradus 280. Carradus fired a total of 1153 for three consecutive games with strings of 357, 296 and 400.

The Patricia Rex Fiers, Canadian basketball champions, have nowhere to play this season. The Vancouver and district league refused to admit them so the Fiers will have to get by with exhibitions until the playoffs arrive.

Makes Football Different

Modern T Grid Formation
Tough to Defend Against

By HARRY GRAYSON
NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—The modern T with man-in-motion is difficult to defend against the first time around, which is not the least reason why Notre Dame and Army have an edge over Navy and Pennsylvania.

Perfection in football, or in anything else for that matter, is achieved by doing something over and over again.

The T formation popularized by Clark Shaughnessy and Stanford and George Halas and the Chicago Bears makes football as different as basketball.

Imagine therefore, Penn's problem in lacking the T for the first time and as executed by the multiple cafeterias forming at least three of the swiftest squads ever assembled.

Navy hasn't seen the T since the midshipmen were sunk, 9-0, by Notre Dame a year ago, which hardly has given the sailors an opportunity to understand it too thoroughly.

PLAYS SYSTEMATIC
Deployed against the T, players do not look for the same traps, they do not play off the same men, etc.

Teams employing the single wing win with systematic and well organized plays.

The T teams' plays are systematic and well organized, too, but there is more deception with the possibility of the ball-carrier hitting an old place.

When the quarterback gets the ball, he starts in all directions and if the T team has an end who can kick your tackle and a tackle who can kick your guard you are simply out of luck.

The T is tailor-made for a specialist like Bertelli of Notre Dame, whose running in no way comes close to comparing with his passing.

Angelo Bertelli doesn't pitch often enough to let the other side get used to what he is doing. Rivalry now call the Golden Wop "Death."

He has completed 27 of 28 this fall. Sunny Rugh at his best chucked with no such accuracy.

Interhall Loop at Notre Dame Fast
NOTRE DAME, Oct. 30.—Some of the best football players in the country are performing in the Notre Dame interhall league. Many transfers found it impossible to go out for varsity ball, so they are playing interhall ball for exercise and relaxation, inasmuch as there is little or no practice. Such players as Max Woskonus from Illinois, Verlie Ahrens from Missouri, and Jimmy Johnson from Marquette are included.

Uniform Rules
PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 30.—George Nungesser, Pennsylvania coach, advocates uniform rules for high school and college football.

O.R.F.U. Header

Has Vital Bearing
On Top Standings

TORONTO, Oct. 30.—(CPI)—All the trimmings will be there when four teams of the Ontario Rugby Football Union put on a double-header at Varsity Stadium today that will have a vital bearing on the top standings.

The unbeaten Hamilton Flying Wildcats tangle with Toronto R.C. A.P. Hurricanes in the second game, following a clash between Toronto Balmy Beach and Ottawa Combines.

Hamilton holds a two-point lead over Hurricanes with the Beavers just one point behind the alrms. A win for Beavers and a victory for Hamilton would put the Beavers in second place ahead of the Hurricanes.

Preparations are being made to handle a crowd of 20,000 at the doubleheader.

Since Balmy Beach's protest against the game with Wildcats Oct. 20 has been thrown out, Beavers must win all their remaining games or fade from the playoffs.

Hamilton is expected to beat the Hurricanes today, although the alrms held them to a 9-9 tie in their last clash. Hurricanes' plunging line however has been cut to the minimum with only three replacements.

There were no details available on the shelving of Beavers' protest at Thursday night's closed meeting of all the league clubs except Ottawa Combines. Union president Frank Leonard said the decision was reached after careful consideration, but that was all.

Hamilton won the game Oct. 20 by 18-7, after Beavers had been awarded a single point for a rouge on the last play of the game when their attempted placement behind the goal line and the ball was picked up by one of the many spectators who had rushed on the field.

Francis Merrill, Alms' top tackle, gets in only one practice a week because of avulsion injuries.

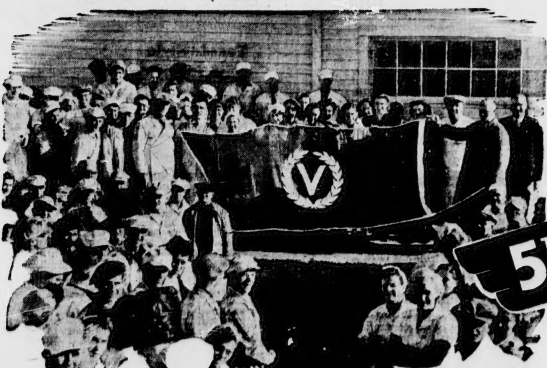

Main Trouble Is Pins Stay Up
NEW YORK, Oct. 29.—Harry Fisher, editor of a New York bowling publication, attempts to explain why midwesterners shoot bigger team scores than New Yorkers. He says midwesterners are more liberal. There are more distractions in the big town. The boys of the hinterlands practice more, take the game more seriously. The men of Manhattan are compelled to spend too much time traveling to alters. But the principal trouble seems to be that the pins stay up regardless of how they are hit.

And Dick Harlow, but has seen enough of the mortality on pins installing it at Yale—provided it fits the material, of course.

The Inquiring Reporter
THE QUESTION: What do you think of the announcement that more canned goods will be available in the near future?

THE ANSWERS
HARRY JENKINS, grocer's assistant: It is about time the supply of canned goods was increased. Although there has not been any grumbling the shortage has created some hardship to housewives.

FRED HOPKINS, carpenter: It is to be hoped that the canned goods to be made available will be varied in character and that canned berries and other fruits can be obtained. Short supplies of fruit this coming season made it impossible for many people to put down a reasonable supply for winter use.

WILLIAM MCMURROUGH, caretaker: I hope that some apple juice will be made available, and also that the variety of canned fruits is increased. We could do with a larger variety of vegetables also.

Millions of Dollars Are Now Being Exchanged for Victory Bonds!

The big Dominion-wide VICTORY BOND STAMPEDE is now making History... Canadians are wholeheartedly buying their share of freedom... exchanging dollar bills, bank notes for DOMINION OF CANADA VICTORY BONDS, bearing three percent interest! It is a duty we owe to our fighting forces overseas... to ourselves... to our families and to Canada and the civilized world!

There is still a war to be won and Canadians on the home front have a duty to perform right now in putting over this 5th Victory Loan with a BANG that will help paralyze the ENEMIES of FRE

In loving memory of James Macle...

There is a wife who misses you...

And finds the time long since you...

And thinks of you daily and...

But tries to be brave and...

But the tears that I shed in...

And think of you all the time...

You are mine, and I...

Through all the world goes...

—Ever remembered by your loving wife, Maude.

In loving memory of my dear...

beloved husband and father, David...

William, who departed this life...

October 21, 1943.

Time passes on, seven years...

have passed.

Since then, my life, as it...

showed call.

And look from a smiling...

We miss him, and ever...

His spirit lives in me.

Down here we mourn, but not...

For up in heaven we see...

him, and we are glad.

—Sadly remembered by your loving wife, Judith and Margaret.

City Commissioners Annual Review Civic Administration

Tax Collections Reveal Quarter - Million - Dollar Gain in 9-Month Period

Cash Sales of Tax Sale Lands and Properties For Nine-Months Increased by 106 Per Cent. Over Previous Year

Building Permits, Bank Clearings, Utilities, Other Services All Show Improvement in Position Over 1942 Period

EDMONTON, Alberta, October 29th, 1942.

THE ALDERMEN AND CITIZENS OF THE CITY OF EDMONTON.

The following report is submitted for the nine months ended 30th September.

Among the outstanding results covering the period under review are:

A reduction of two mills in the Tax Rate.

Tax Collections for the nine months total $3,813,568.70, an increase of more than a quarter of a million over the same period last year.

The collection of arrears to 30th September, included in the above figures, are $889,094.26, as compared with $729,089.31 for the same period last year.

Cash sales of Tax Sale Lands and properties for the nine months were $423,174.70, as against $205,010.43 last year to the same date, an increase of 106%.

Building permits to 27th October were $5,409,720.00, as compared with $2,799,935.00 for the same period last year. Included in the 1943 figures is $1,017,330.00 covering 685 new dwellings on private account, together with $987,000.00 for 230 Wartime Houses, a total of 915 new houses, which, when completed, will assist very materially in relieving the present shortage. In addition, 100 additional Wartime Houses have been authorized.

Bank Clearings to 30th September this year are $209,600,079, being an increase of $80,296,115 over the same period last year, or 34.5%. This is again the largest percentage increase of any city in Western Canada.

Gross revenues of the Civic Utilities to 30th September were $4,755,665.51, an increase of $671,838.80, or 16.4%, over the same period in 1942.

Electric Light and Power connections are now 27,024 as compared with 26,215 at this date last year, an increase of 3.05%.

Street Railway passengers have increased from 14,958,720 to 22,440,611 or 50%.

Power output delivered is 74,324,900 K.W.H., an increase of 12,150,500 K.W.H. over last year or 16.5%.

The number of telephones installed has increased from 21,848 to 23,852, 8.3%.

Water connections have increased from 15,130 to 18,942, 4.5%.

The population has increased from 96,725 to 105,536, 9.1%.

The value of the City's Assessment increased by $1,217,360.00, the fourth consecutive substantial increase.

The Debt Service Debt of the City has been reduced by a further $733,754.07.

The per capita Gross Debt has been reduced to $231.51 as compared with $383.61, only seven years ago.

A problem of great concern confronting the administration is the shortage of housing accommodation for the rapidly increasing population. The rate of increase for the past decade averaged about 3% per annum, but during the past year it has been over 9% and owing to the necessary war time restrictions, and increased costs of both building materials and labor, it has not been possible to provide sufficient new dwellings to accommodate such a large influx, and were it not for the generous response made by so many of our citizens to the appeals of the Emergency Accommodation Bureau to open their homes to those in need of shelter, the results would have been even more serious than they are today. Despite the restrictions before mentioned, more houses have, and are being erected in the City, than at any time during the past thirty years. If the Fall weather is not too severe, it is hoped that approximately 950 to 1,000 dwellings will be completed before the end of the year, which will aid very materially in alleviating the situation. The work of the members of the Emergency Accommodation Bureau is worthy of the highest commendation. They have performed a service which has been of inestimable value in the contingency probably without parallel in the history of the City.

Wartime Housing

Early in January, after months of correspondence with Wartime Housing Limited had failed to produce results, a visit was made to the authorities at Ottawa, requesting the erection of 500 Wartime Houses, of a type suitable to this climate, and while the delegation did not succeed in obtaining the number desired, a promise was received to build 200 units, which was afterwards increased to 250, and subsequently a further 100 was added. The first 250 are at present under construction, but the progress made has not been up to expectations, owing to the shortage of labor occasioned by so much work being undertaken locally on the various war projects. However, with the measures taken recently to increase the supply of labor the contractors have given the assurance that within the next week to ten days these houses will begin to be occupied.

Tax Collections

The collection of taxes, both current and arrears (but principally the latter) to 30th September, reflect the increased amount of money in circulation in the City. With sales of Tax Sale Lands to 30th September totalling $423,174.70, it would appear to be more than probable that this year's collection of arrears will establish a record, even exceeding those of 1928, when so much property was sold in the Eaton store transaction. This year has witnessed the greatest number of sales of both vacant lands and improved properties, no less than 4,704 parcels having been disposed of to 30th September, and the sales for October to date are more than double those for the same month last year. With the great demand for housing accommodation, the City has been able to dispose of many of its properties, thus enlarging the tax base. It is estimated as a result of the sale of civic properties this year that approximately $750,000.00 of land values alone will be reinstated on the active tax rolls, as compared with $385,065.00 last year.

Bonded Indebtedness

This important problem receiving the administration's most serious attention. The gross debt service debt of the City at 31st December, 1936, was $32,573,883.53, while today it has been reduced to $24,432,736.55, a reduction of $8,141,146.98 in the past seven years. The following statement shows how this has been accomplished:

CITY OF EDMONTON DEBT SERVICE DEBT

Funded Debt as at Dec 31, 1936 $32,573,883.53

Less being by Sinking Fund and cancelled as at

Feb. 1, 1937 6,497,508.82

$26,076,374.71

Additional cancellation of Sinking Fund holdings in 1937 6,651,050.50

$19,425,324.21

Cancellations Aug. 1937 to

Aug. 1942 inclusive $3,146,000.06

Cancellation 1942 733,754.07

$2,412,245.99

Net addition to Funded Debt 1937-1942 2,067,078.22

As at 31st December, 1942 $21,438,276.85

This large reduction in funded debt, together with the increase in the population of the City, has resulted in a decrease in the per capita gross debt from $383.61 to $231.51.

The debt service interest paid on the above total debt in 1936 was $1,730,100.52, the average rate of interest being 5.263%, while this year the amount paid was $1,230,116.36, an average rate of 4.934%. This much has been accomplished in the way of reduction of principal, and there now remains the important matter of refunding the balance of the bonded debt still outstanding, in whole or in part, preferably the latter, at a reduced rate of interest. Each one per cent reduction in interest rates is equal to approximately $200,000.00 per annum, so it can readily be seen how important it is to effect a refunding operation at the earliest possible moment. Encouraging discussions have been under way for some time, and if the Province is successful in its present negotiations regarding refunding, the task of the City will be appreciably lightened and expedited.

This City has much to offer investors by way of material factors, such as its strategic situation, being "The Gateway to the North" and "At the Crossroads of the World's Air Trails," the rich farming area in its great hinterland, its highly successful Utility System, its expanding industries producing everyday consumable goods, its practically unlimited supply of cheap Coal and Gas, and outside of these the fact that Edmonton, in rain and shine, has always paid its debts at contractual rates and at due date, frequently at high cost through bank borrowings.

To refund the debt before 1st February, 1947, it has to be done in whole, under the Refunding Plan, but after that it can be done in part, but the Administration's viewpoint is that it would be the most desirable to effect a full refunding at one time, still retaining the call feature.

City Architect and Building Inspector

This year witnessed the largest building programme for many years, the permits taken out to 27th October totalling $5,409,720 covering 2,287 units. Much of this work was of a military character, which caused a serious shortage of labor for private construction, and consequent delay in finishing private buildings. The number of dwellings for the period this year are 918, as compared with 459 for the same period last year, while the values were $2,604,320.00 as compared with $1,008,555.00.

The Building Inspector reports the following summary:

BUILDING PERMITS TO OCTOBER 27th, 1942-1943

No.	1942	No.	1943
13 Public Buildings	$1,128,450.00	3	$12,000.00
24 Commercial Buildings	212,100.00	15	$1,785,000.00
2 Apartments	21,500.00	34	220,745.00
921 Alterations and Repairs	403,115.00	990	$61,357.00
385 Dwellings, $1,000 and up	966,625.00	866	$1,546,120.00
74 Dwellings under $1,000	45,020.00	113	$8,210.00
74 Miscellaneous	45,020.00	321	$6,940.00
1962	$2,013,400.00	2281	$3,409,720.00

Safety and Health

The Medical Officer of Health reports that the greatly increased congestion of population in the city has demanded a proportionate increase in disease prevention activities of the Health Department.

During the first nine months of this year, 13,737 immunization procedures were carried out in his office—this being already much higher than previous years' totals. This includes 2,343 children who have been vaccinated, or are receiving the protection against diphtheria, 1,065 against scarlet fever, 1,280 against whooping cough, and lesser numbers against smallpox and typhoid fever. Cases of communicable disease have not increased in number.

Despite problems presented by war conditions, a high standard has been maintained in the quality of our milk supply. This has entailed some 500 inspections of dairy farms, and 9,543 analyses of milk samples in the laboratory.

In this period, 39,578 pounds of diseased meat were discovered and condemned as unfit for food. Tuberculosis accounted for 14,285 pounds of this meat.

Inspectors made 10,496 sanitary inspections, and issued 7,073 notices for correction of unsanitary conditions. Complaints investigated numbered 819. Also 3,390 visits were made in connection with communicable disease, including venereal disease.

At the City disinfecting station, 3,080 baths were given, and 2,140 men washed their own clothes; also 1,155 units of clothing were disinfected.

Housing problems have demanded a great deal of our time, and it is our earnest hope that every effort will be continued to increase the dwelling space in the city.

Fire

Following is a comparative tabulation showing fire calls and losses for the past five years:

FIRE CALLS ANSWERED	ADJUSTED LOSS
1937 402	$12,400.00 (to 30th Sept)
1938 402	$10,720.00 " "
1939 384	$10,720.00 " "
1940 384	$10,720.00 " "
1941 384	$10,720.00 " "
1942 648	$1,154.00 "

It will be noted that the loss so far adjusted this year is exceptionally low.

Police

The total strength of the Force is still below pre-war establishment and should be increased to keep pace with the rise in population as soon as men are available.

There has been a considerable increase in the duties performed by the Police Force this year as is indicated by the fact that for the nine month period there were 1,195 arrests as compared with 961 for the corresponding period last year. The total number of complaints reported to the Detective Department for investigation is 3,291 as compared with 2,576 for the same period last year. There has been a corresponding increase in the work of all other branches of the Department.

The best of co-operation has been received from the R.C.M.P. and units of the Canadian and U.S. Armed forces. Such co-operation has materially assisted in the maintenance of law and order within the City and in keeping down crime.

Engineering Department

1942 was another difficult year for the administration of public works and was characterized by an extreme shortage of necessary labor and materials, the latter being unobtainable in some cases. In addition the increased population and particularly War activities in the City increased the demands for many services and as a consequence many items of work authorized for construction had to be carried over and maintenance work could not be done to normal standards.

PUBLIC WORKS

The group of items under this heading comprises the maintenance of various public works. The cost of gravelled and paved roads this year was much higher as compared with a similar period last year due to the excessive severities imposed by heavy traffic, snow and Spring conditions.

SEWERS AND DRAINAGE

The Spring run-off conditions increased the cost of surface drainage over last year. There are certain sections of the City, particularly in the river flats, which will require the construction of relief sewers, probably as part of the post-war programme.

STREETS AND SCAVENGING

Snow and ice treatment as a result of the exceptionally heavy snow of the Winter of 1942-43 was much higher in cost than the previous year.

Refuse collection and disposal continues to be a serious problem. Use has been made of refuse material to stabilize high banks of river beds and experience at Grison shows this method of treatment is effective. A rather extensive bankslide occurred at Jasper last season but it is hoped it will be stabilized in the same way.

No road oil was available last season and it was necessary to depend upon water sprinkling for dust control. This, however, is unsatisfactory for our extensive area and heavy traffic. Pavement is the solution.

PARKS AND CEMETERIES

The parks, playgrounds, golf course, and swimming pool facilities of the City were in greater demand this season because of the increased population and the number of U.S.A. and Empire forces stationed here and because of restrictions placed on travel.

The Airport continues to be a hive of activity. The Administration Building completed and opened last Fall is already much too small and will have to be enlarged in 1944. Also Cocking Lake Seaplane Base was very busy with traffic to the North and considerable improvement was made to the docking facilities there.

CAPITAL ACCOUNT

Capital work suffered most from the shortage of labour and lack of materials and many items of work authorized for construction have had to be carried over.

110th Avenue between 80th and 95th Streets was paved, particularly to give a paved route for the use of trolley buses serving this district and as a route to and from the car barns.

The City's gravel pit at Laurier Park has been in continuous operation since April, the season's output to date being 214,881 cubic yards. This output has been taken to various City jobs and also to Airport construction. The supply and quality are holding up very well and should be sufficient with the reserve pit for several years to come.

UTILITIES

All the activities of the Civic Utilities are expanding in keeping with the population and additional net earnings are being credited to reserve funds, all of which will be urgently required in the near future.

Power Plant and Pumping Plant

The increase in energy delivered to the City was 19.5% as against 0.9% increase for the similar period in 1942.

There was a decrease in the number of K.W.H. generated of 10,428,600. This was due to the fact that the Calgary Power Company's demands were not as heavy as last year owing to the fact that they had increased their generating capacity.

Reserve set aside for new extensions was $257,000.00 against $267,000.00 for the same period last year. To date $763,374.81 has been paid on the $805,533.25 extension to the generating plant.

Surplus to the City including taxes was $228,013.00 compared to $226,745.00 for the same period last year.

The new boiler has been in operation all this year and work is continuing on the installation of the new turbine.

Electric Light and Power Distribution

Sales of current during the nine months was 59,212,000 K.W.Hours against 59,001,200 K.W.Hours last year.

There are 808 more meters in service at the end of September than a year ago, total meters in service being 27,024 against 26,215.

Approximately 12½ miles of Pole Line have been completed during the last nine months. Dominion Government restrictions on extension of lines still being in force have curtailed considerably the extensions of the system to private consumers.

The nine month period has seen the completion of considerable installations for war purposes, among others:

A Substation and distribution system at the United States Divisional Headquarters, Jossit College.

A Substation and high tension line to United States Government Railroad office, 142 Street and 107th Avenue. A high tension line to the Stateline Airfield 6 1/2 miles North of our lines on 97th Street, and

A Substation, high tension line and considerable distribution at No. 2 A.O.S., Edmonton Airport.

Street Railway

There has been an extraordinary increase in street railway traffic since last November. 22,440,611 passengers were carried on the system during the first nine months of 1943 as against 14,958,720 for the same period in 1942 being an increase of 50%. 1942 in turn showed an increase of 22% over the same period in 1941. These increases are mainly brought about by gasoline and tire rationing as well as by increased population. War restrictions render it very difficult to get new equipment but three new 41 passenger trolley coaches were acquired during the year and eight more are expected to reach the City early in 1944, as well as three more gasoline buses. The new trolley coaches will release about six street cars for service on other routes.

The City finally was able to get new steel for the "special" at the intersection of 101st Street and Jasper Avenue. This was recently installed by the City Engineer's Department and was an item of maintenance which was long overdue.

In an effort to accommodate more people in the street cars and to speed up the service to some degree, women have recently been employed to operate the war doors of certain street cars during the rush hours. It is hoped that this combined with the "no smoking" bylaw which has recently been passed by the City Council, will materially help the situation, but it cannot be anticipated that the system will be able to give really satisfactory service during the rush hours in the coming Winter months.

Telephone Department

The total number of Telephones in service was 23,662 compared with 21,848 as at September 30th, 1942, which is an increase of 1,814 new services for the 12 month period. This is the greatest annual increase since the inception of the service and is largely due to expanding business conditions created by war activities in the City and Northern construction projects.

A 500 line addition to the Central Office equipment was installed in each of the South and North Exchanges at the beginning of the year. Further additions of this class of equipment cannot be obtained for domestic use until after hostilities cease.

New aerial cables were installed to providential services to the Air Observers School, United States Army Engineers Warehouse at 142nd Street, and the United States Quartermasters' Area at Hilda Street.

Expansion of the cable distribution system is required in some congested districts throughout the City, but because of the Dominion Government conservation orders restricting the use of copper further additions to the cable plant cannot now be made, except where wire facilities are urgently required for necessary war services.

Waterworks

The volume of water distributed to consumers has increased by 13%, and cash revenue on a proportionate basis. The erection of new dwellings and other buildings has required a 32% greater number of water service installations, and at this late date in the year, more water service are waiting for construction than ever before.

There is a considerable shortage of new meters to take care of these houses and the repair of old meters is nearly impossible due to lack of parts.

Extension and construction of new mains has been practically eliminated, and the installation of these for military requirements is now being done by personnel outside the department. All phases of departmental work have been severely handicapped by a shortage of manpower and, at the present time, only maintenance jobs of emergency nature can be undertaken, besides the installation of service pipes to new dwellings.

CHAPTER XXI
FOR an astonished second Schröder sat there speechless. Then Imhof was kneeling at Pat's side, in a fever of alarm and apprehension.

"Imhof!" Imhof urged Imhof, in panic. The corridor was in an uproar. Windows were lowered to give Pat air. A glass of water was passed along, with much whispering from hand to hand all the length of the corridor from the water cooler.

Chafing her hand and gazing anxiously at her pale face so livid under the little blue bulb overhead, Imhof felt his palm suddenly gripped in the briefest and faintest of fingers. Pat's eyes fluttered open and one half-closed again in the barest, fleetest suspicion of a wink.

After that, with water, air and many attentions, she quickly recovered. Pat apologized charmingly to Schröder, and seated on his chair, which he insisted on surrendering to her, proceeded skillfully to develop the acquaintance. By a series of deft indirections, with what she knew serving as a guide for artless little remarks and innocent-seeming questions, Pat advanced by knight's moves toward her secret goal.

"A ladylike, mum!" Pat exclaimed, having again Schröder nearer to the landing net. Oh, really and truly? She glowed at him, in her wide eyes the bewitching smile that few men are able to resist. Schröder reacted, and he easily drew from him the tale of his exploit, his wound, his being invaded from the service, his leave, his transfer.

"Oh, isn't it wonderful?" She clasped her hands against her breast. "Wonderful!" She turned to Imhof. "Lieutenant Schröder must come and have dinner with us when he reaches Mannheim. We shall still be there." She flashed her eyes at him, and made him sit off the disapproval that his lips were framing.

"You will come?" Please?" she prettily pleaded to Schröder. "That with pleasure," he accepted, and meant it. "I'm so glad." Her face was captured. "Just a quiet little dinner. We three—at our hotel—the Plaisirhof?"

"How silly of me!" she cried, to gain time. "Forgetting the name of our hotel like this." She laughed at herself gaily. "Rudolph, what was the name of the hotel where you said we should stay? Oh, yes!" she seemed to remember, before Imhof could open his mouth. "The Plaisirhof." The die was cast.

"Why, I'm going there, too," claimed Schröder, pleasantly surprised. "Pat was all delighted and astonished. 'But how wonderful!'"

"And now, young woman, perhaps you'll tell me what all this comedy is about." They were in Mannheim, in the Plaisirhof, in Pat's room. As Pat told him Imhof's exposition changed from critical skepticism to appreciative interest.

"What a gateway that would be!" he said, longingly. "Impersonating Schröder and placing his place in a fantastic."

"Think of the time saving," Pat urged. "It's not the advantages of the idea that need study, it's the difficulties."

"But if the thing doesn't look good right up to the last, we can always drop it."

"You can't let go of a live wire once you've grasped it. This is the last. No further. I'll be positive we can pull it off."

"Oh, yes," Schröder answered. "That Schröder man isn't dead!" I never dreamed I could be so successful!

"You loved every second of it," he laughed. "I know." She nodded guiltily. "Which makes it worse."

"It was an emotion for your future husband," he teased. "I suppose you worked out the whole scheme before we boarded the train, tantrum and all?"

"Not worked it all out quite," she declared modestly. "I did that on the train while I pumped him. The idea flashed on me in the waiting room. I heard he had the same job I have at home. The transfer to Mannheim seemed to put it right in our laps and the home leave gave us time to test the ground here."

"Well, darling," he warned as he turned her down after they had discussed the plan from every angle, "don't let your hopes soar too high. We may yet end up logging for the frontier on foot."

The next day, and for several days thereafter, Imhof, sometimes with Pat, but more often alone, cautiously scouted around the Mannheim plane factory, studying the layout of both plant and field.

On the morning of the 14th he went to take a final look. Schröder was due that very afternoon, and Imhof wanted to be perfectly sure of his ground. From the street car, on his way back, his eye was caught and held by a passing pedestrian.

Next instant he had leaped from the car and turned back in pursuit. "Pat—in man's clothes! What could she be up to?"

Clothing in on her from behind and choosing a moment when she had the pavement to themselves, he spoke, almost in her ear. "What are you doing in that rig?"

"With a start so violent that it amounted to a yelp expressed in movement, the quarry whirled around—and Imhof found himself looking into eyes that were not Pat's, hard, hostile, fighting eyes. Despite the surprise and alarm that disoriented them.

Electoral Reform Will Be Debated In British House

LONDON, Oct. 29.—(C.P.)—Parliament will soon debate electoral reform as a prelude to a conference probably of all parties, which will be a prelude to legislative action to meet a problem heightened by the shuffling position of wartime.

In announcing the government's intention of introducing a bill for the appointment of permanent boundary commissions, Home Secretary Herbert Morrison said the plan was to carry through a scheme of redistribution to take effect before the first post-war general election is held.

All parties agree that redistribution has become necessary.

JEFF HILL HAS CALLED HIS TRANSPORTATION FOREMAN, DOC SKAGWAY, INTO HIS OFFICE FOR QUESTIONING...

DOC HAS IT OCCURRED TO YOU THAT THE SABOTEURS HAVE INSIDE HELP--RIGHT HERE AT HILLANDIA?

COULD BE, JEFF. I GUESS THEY'RE PRETTY SLY OPERATORS

THE JAP RESPONSIBLE FOR THREE KIDNAPPINGS WAS CAPTURED TODAY--HE WAS SMUGGLED ABOARD THE PLANE IN A CARGO BOX.

YOU WOULDN'T BE ACCUSING ME OF ANYTHING, WOULD YOU, JEFF?

YOU'RE RESPONSIBLE--DON'T MOVE! KEEP YOUR MOUTH SHUT! YOU'RE TRYING TO STALL ME INTO A TRAP AND...

AND WHAT, MISTER DOC SKAGWAY HEIN--RICH SNITZELSLAGER?

THREE TO ONE! YOU FELLOWS PLAY FOR KEEPS, DON'T YOU?

IT IS A WARM DAY FOR A FIRE.

AND IT WILL PROBABLY BE MUCH WARMER BEFORE NIGHT.

YOU'RE SURE OF YOUR FACTS? DOC HAS BEEN A MIGHTY GOOD MAN.

THAT'S WHY HE WAS PICKED FOR THIS JOB, BUT THERE'S NO MISTAKE, MR. HILL.

GET ME SOME KINDLING, WILL YOU PLEASE, SHEILA?

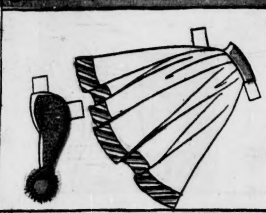

RIGHT.
